

OUR LADY OF MERCY ACADEMY

On an autumn morning in 1928, eleven (11) students entered the doors of Our Lady of Mercy Academy. By the end of the year, there would be thirty (30) students comprising the 8th and 9th grades.

Geographically, our 96 acres create an atmosphere of spaciousness and natural beauty. They also provide opportunities for education. Our wide, rolling acres serve the Athletic Department for softball, tennis, soccer, lacrosse and track. The Science and Art Departments use the grounds for extended classroom instruction and experimentation.

Although the Academy was built as a boarding school, it always made room for day students who were few in those early days.

The years after World War II saw a tremendous growth in curriculum enrichment and parent participation. A PTA was established in 1948, and, with tremendous support from parents and friends, we were able to build a new gym in 1978. Curriculum has been enriched in art, dance, music and theatre. Advanced placement courses, college affiliation classes, computer labs, Internet access, on-line databases and a completely automated library media center, all indicate that OLMA has progressed from those early 20th century years with 11 students, 5 faculty and a Regents approved curriculum for the times, to the threshold of the 21st century with 275 students, 60 faculty and staff, and a curriculum providing access to all colleges and professions, and preparing women with a Catholic, value-centered future.

JOHN AND NANCY ERNENWEIN

John and Nancy Ernenwein are the Parents of Kerri (OLMA 2015), and sons Brian and Scott. They first became involved with Our Lady of Mercy Academy when Kerri joined the crew team during her freshman year. As active "OLMA Crew Parents" they supported the team in various ways, from running the tailgate tent at regattas, and assisting with the OLMA sprints, to raising funds for new equipment. John and Nancy have also supported the Academy in other ways, such as participating in Tower Runs, Fashion Shows, Father-Daughter Dances, and, of course, they never missed a Sports Night!

John has served on the Our Lady of Mercy Academy Board of Directors for the past seven years. After a long career at various investment firms, in 2020 he founded Dunewood Advisors, a fiduciary services and consulting firm, serving the investment management industry. Nancy and John are thankful to work together on this endeavor.
